

Adventures & Survival Fiction

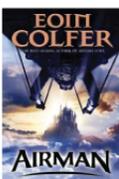

for
TEENS

The 100 by Kass Morgan
After a nuclear war destroys Earth, 100 juvenile delinquent teens return to Earth to recolonize the planet.

KASS MORGAN

After the snow by S.D. Crockett
In the year 2059 a new ice age has fallen over Earth, bringing non-stop snow. Willo and his family survive in the wilderness, but when his family mysteriously disappears, he has to survive on his own.

Airman by Eoin Colfer
In the late nineteenth century, Conor is wrongly imprisoned and uses his knowledge about flying to build a strange apparatus with hopes that he can escape the horrid prison.

All fall down: an Embassy Row novel by Ally Carter

Grace's grandfather is a powerful ambassador who lives on Embassy Row. After her mother's death, Grace returns to Embassy Row to live with him and hopes to uncover the secrets surrounding her mother's death.

Ashfall by Mike Mullin
When a supervolcano in Yellowstone destroys his city and all of the surrounding area, Alex must journey from Iowa to Illinois in search of his family. Along the way he meets Darla, and together they must figure out how to survive.

The Compound by S.A. Bodeen

Eli and several members of his family have survived in an underground bomb shelter believing that a nuclear attack has destroyed the world, but after six years, they learn that their father has kept them there for his own purposes.

Don't turn around by Michelle Gagnon
Noa, an expert computer hacker, has lived alone since her parents died. One day she wakes up in a warehouse on an operating table with no knowledge of how she got there. She escapes and goes on the run with rich kid Peter, a fellow hacker who must investigate a shady organization that threatens his family.

An ember in the ashes by Sabaa Tahir

Laia is a Scholar living under the iron-fisted rule of the Martial Empire. When her brother is arrested for treason and her grandparents murdered, Laia goes undercover as a slave in exchange for help from rebel Scholars who claim they will help to save her brother from execution.

The extraordinary adventures of Alfred Kropp by Rick Yancey

Alfred Kropp is a teen who is just trying to survive high school, when his grandfather convinces him to steal Excalibur, King Arthur's sword.

Insignia by S. J. Kincaid

Fourteen-year-old Tom is a whiz at virtual reality video games. With Earth in the middle of WWII, Tom is recruited by the U.S. Military to pilot drones that fight off planet.

In the after by Demitria Lunetta

In a post-apocalyptic world, Amy finds a baby while scavenging for food, and they must survive while avoiding deadly creatures that roam the earth.

Legend by Marie Lu

June has vowed to avenge her brother's death. Things get complicated when she finds out the cute boy she just met is the enemy she has sworn to kill. Told in alternating voices.

Nation by Terry Pratchett

After a tsunami strikes an island population, and island boy and a girl from England survive and try to rebuild it.

Never fall down by Patricia McCormick

An, a young Cambodian boy, is taken from his family and joins the army as a musician. An must survive by his wits, never fall down, never show weakness, as the Khmer Rouge forces him to become a soldier. Based on a true story.

No safety in numbers by Dayna Lorentz

Everyone in a busy shopping mall is put under lockdown when a biological bomb is released into the air ducts. Four very different teens narrate the story as they figure out how to survive when people start getting sick and supplies start to run low.

Peak by Roland Smith

A fourteen-year-old boy attempts to be the youngest to climb Mount Everest when he reconnects with his climbing instructor father after getting in trouble.

Pirates! by Celia Rees

After her father dies, wealthy Nancy Kingston is shipped off to Jamaica and doomed to an arranged marriage with an evil man. She and slave Minerva Sharpe become pirates to escape the wicked plan.

Spy High: mission one by A. J. Butcher

Six teens go to school to learn how to become spies.

